Chevy II g-Machine Inner Fender Components

Aluminum Inner Fender Panels

To provide a clean, finished appearance and prevent debris from entering the engine compartment, high-quality, aluminum, inner fender panels with durable rubber splash flaps and stainless-steel hardware are available. Panels bolt directly to the g-Machine welded subframe, upper fender support, and factory core-support panel. The panel edge closest to the firewall is specially designed for a close fit and is specific to 1962-65 (P/N 6651) and 1966-67 (P/N 6653) models. Panels are available with or without embossed Chassisworks logo and ship with a protective PVC-film coating that easily peels off just prior to final installation. Rubber splash flaps use included stainless hardware to fasten to the inner fender, establishing an easily replaceable seal that fits neatly around the suspension components.

Fender Supports with Hood-Hinge Mounts

Our exclusive steel fender supports feature built-in, weld-nut-equipped, hood-hinge mounts for ease of installation, and they have a specially curved top flange that enables bolt-on installation of factory hood hinges and fenders without distorting the fender, which is unavoidable with flat-flange designs. Chassisworks is the only company to offer fender supports at this level of quality and fit, due to the complication in designing and accurately manufacturing the component. Supports are laser-cut from steel to nearly twice the OEM thickness, receive multiple bends on our fully automated fabrication press, and are spray-arc welded, ground, and powder-coated silver, completing the engine compartment's finished appearance.
